Origin:

1300-50; Middle English inspiren < Latin inspīrāre to breathe upon or into, equivalent to in- + spīrāre to breathe

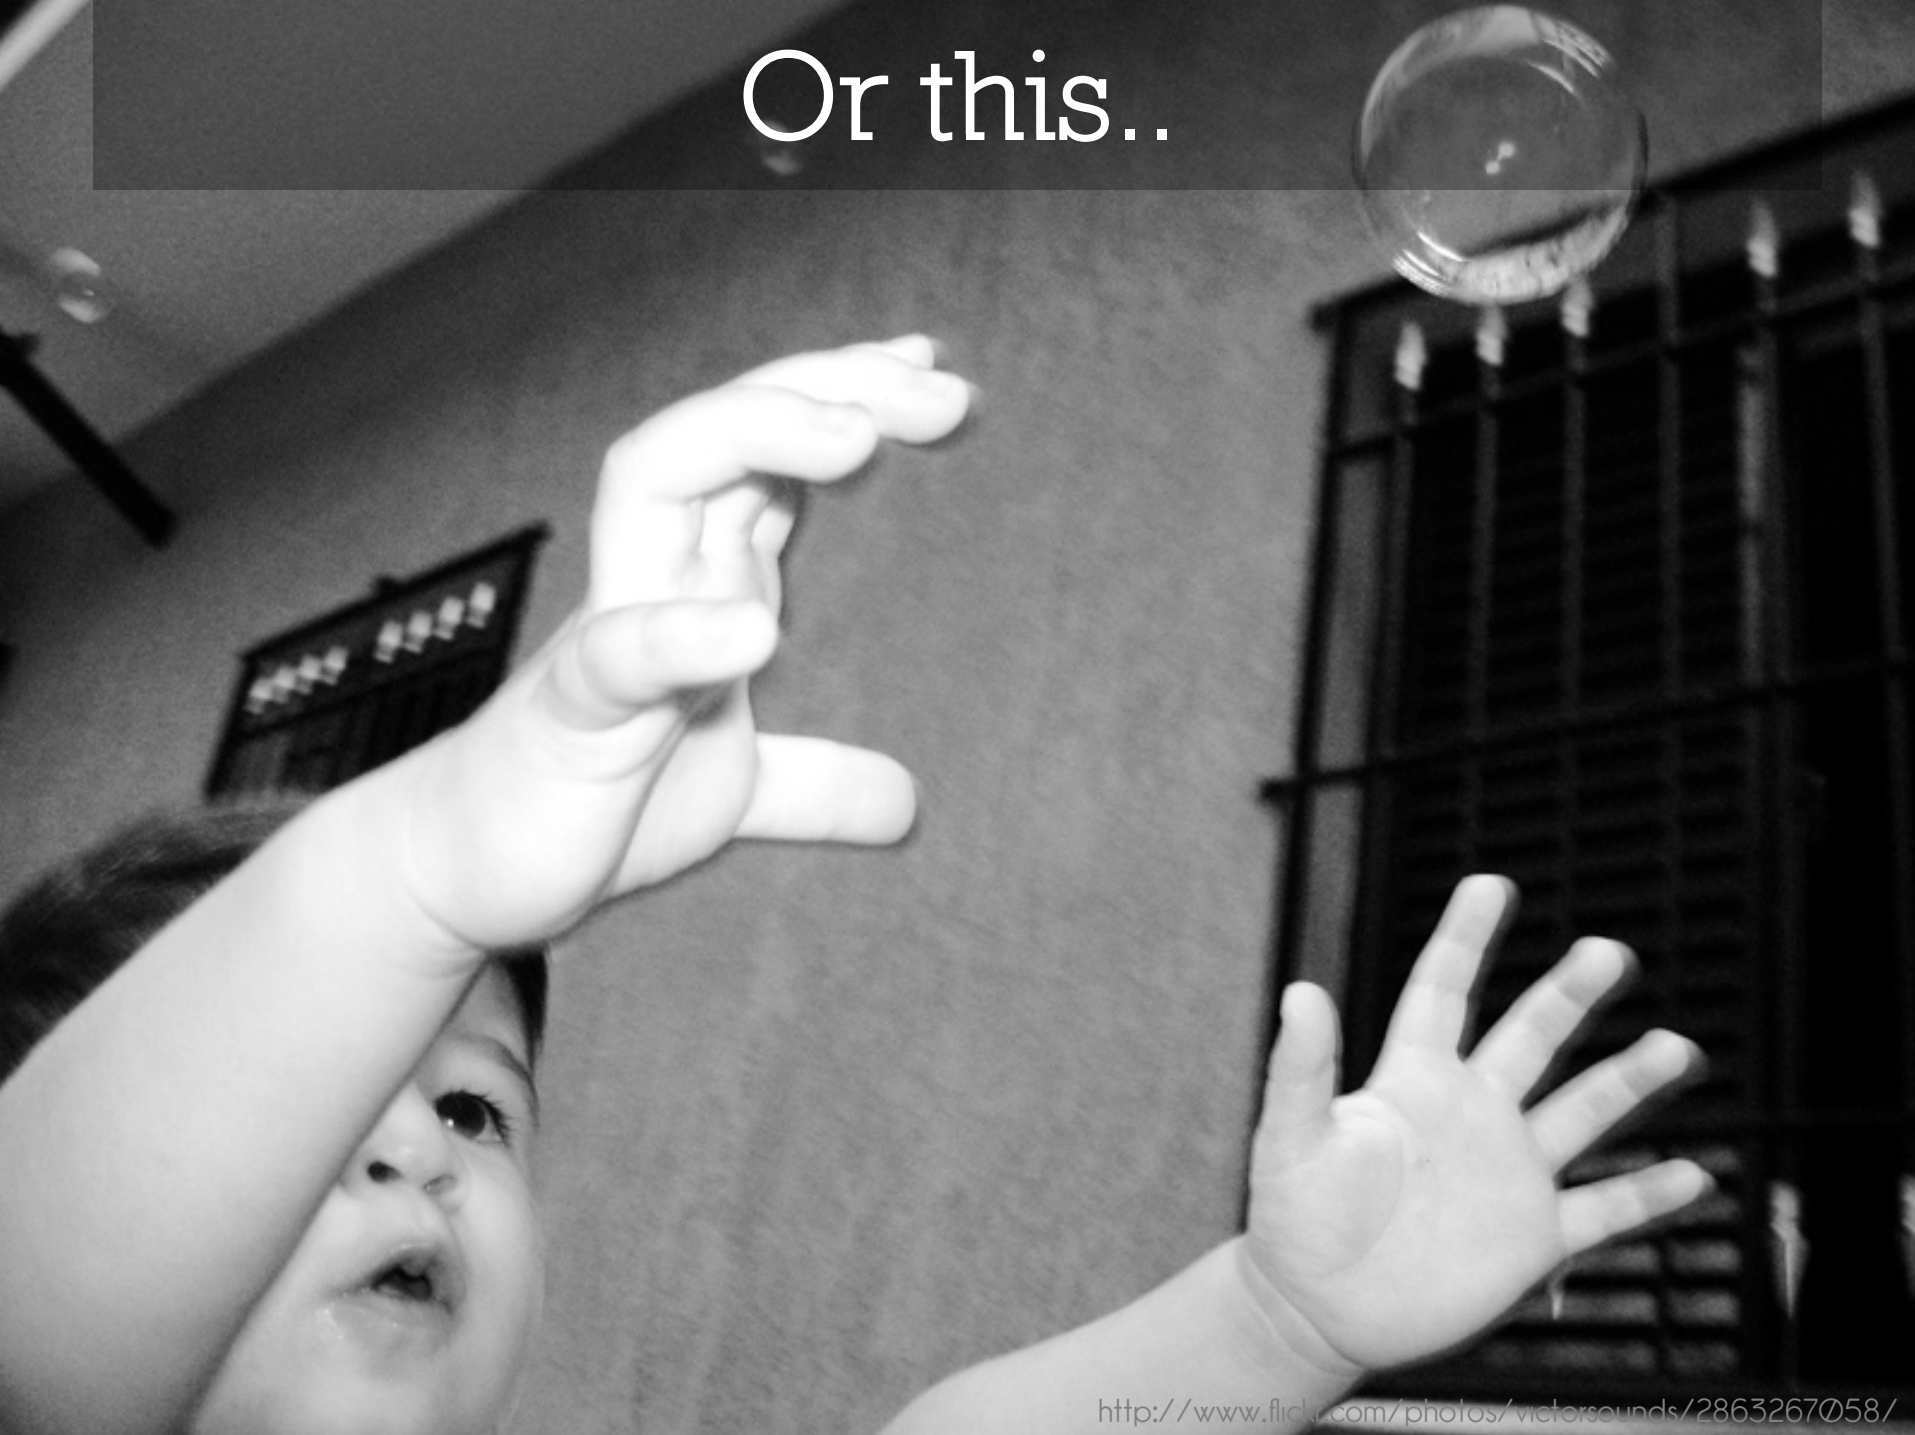

Definition:

1. to fill with an animating, quickening, or exalting influence
2. to give rise to, bring about, cause, etc.
3. to guide or control by divine influence.
4. Archaic: a. to infuse (breath, life, etc.) by breathing. b. to breathe into or upon.

As opposed to being a genius, consider that you have a genius – a mystical spirit that accompanies you and inspires and helps you to create fantastic work.

Muses

Muses

The three original muses:

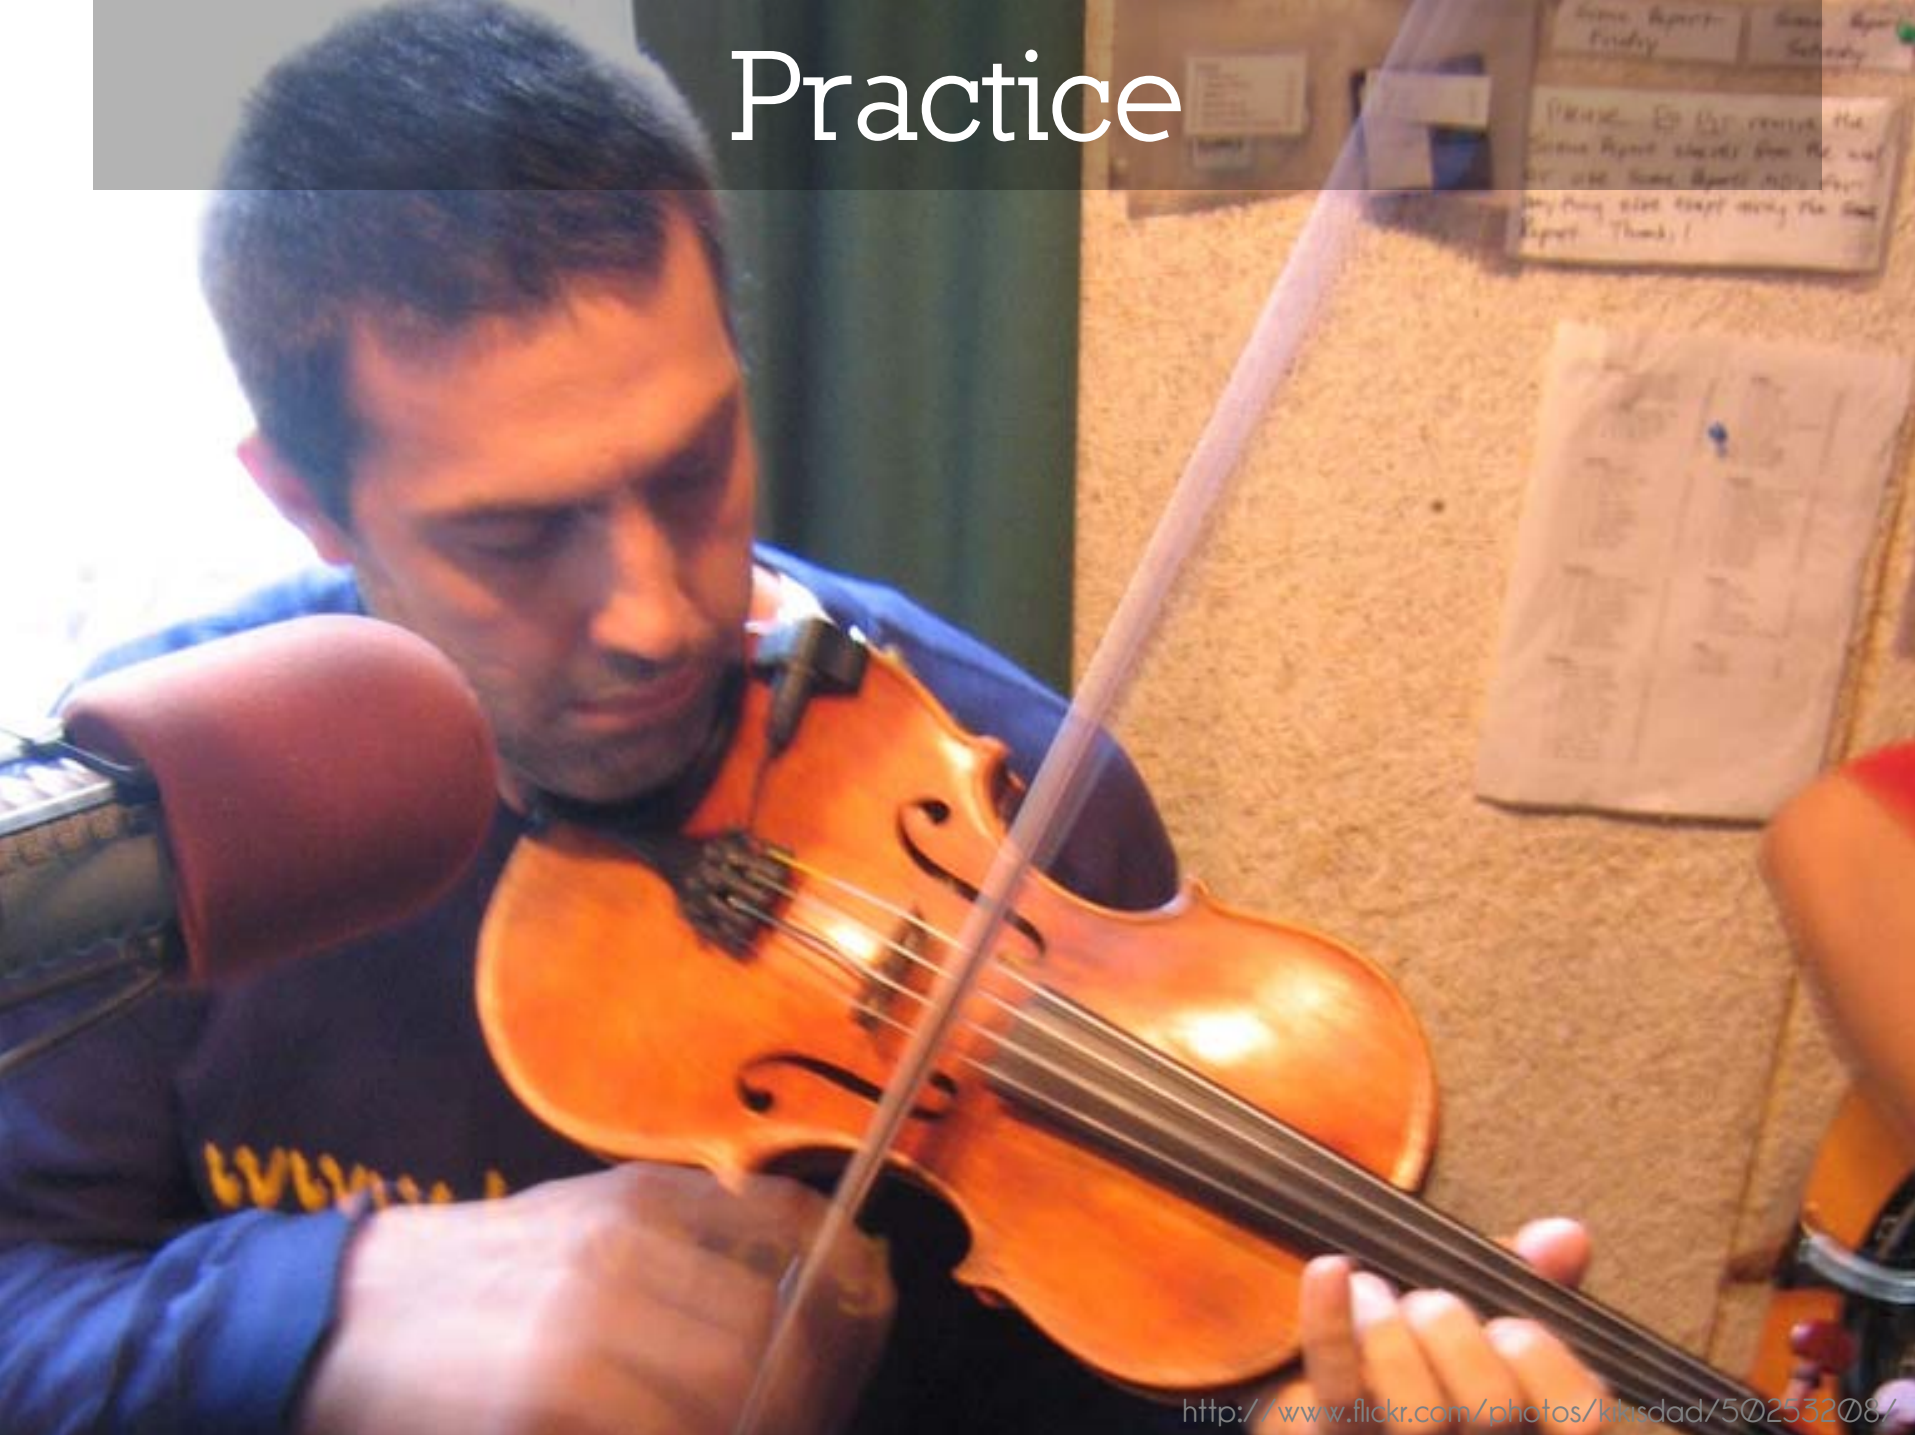

- Mneme - memory
- Melete - practice or occasion
- Aoide - voice

Muses were thought to be the true speakers for whom an artist is merely the mouthpiece. Muses inspire people to do their best.

There's no rush

- Give ideas time to simmer, to develop into hunches
- Ideas often have long incubation periods: they fade into view over time
- Share hunches with others – this sets the stage for the aha/eureka moment

Result: great ideas
